

Dr. Clara Chow MBBS, FRACP, PhD is Consultant Cardiologist at Westmead hospital and Head of the Cardiac Program of research at the George Institute for Global Health, University of Sydney. She did her Medicine training at Westmead Hospital, Cardiology training at Royal Prince Alfred Hospital, Sydney, a PhD in cardiovascular epidemiology and international public Health at the University of Sydney, and a Postdoc in cardiovascular epidemiology, trials and imaging at McMaster University, Canada. Her principal research interests are in cardiovascular disease prevention.