

Laura is the Head of the Clinical Trials Unit, Oxford Clinical Research Unit, Viet Nam. She oversees nine trials units in Viet Nam, Nepal, China and Indonesia with a focus on infectious diseases, emerging infections and outbreaks. With many years of experience conducting research in developing settings, Laura concentrates on building capacity in research ethics review, study design and research implementation in Asia. She completed her studies at McGill University and was Manager of the Hemoglobinopathy Research Programme at the University Health Network and the Hospital for Sick Children before moving to South-East Asia in 2007.